IELTS™

UK Visas & Immigration (UKVI) has announced important changes to Secure English Language Tests (SELT) for visa purposes.

If you are applying for a UK visa, you need to be aware of changes made by UKVI.

Please note

If you are studying at degree level or higher at a Higher Education Institution (HEI), these changes will not affect you. UKVI has confirmed that HEIs currently choose their own method of testing students' English language ability and this will not change.

All British universities and colleges accept IELTS results. This means you can apply with an IELTS result from any of the 1,000 IELTS test locations worldwide unless your institution has additional requirements*.

See www.takeielts.org for a list of test locations.

Which IELTS test do I need if I am applying for a UK visa?

If you are applying for a UK visa in the UK, there is an IELTS test for you. For visa applications to the UK, you may need to have an English language qualification. In particular, for many categories of visa, you must submit an English language qualification which is included on the UK Home Office's list of Secure English Language Tests (often referred to as SELT tests). IELTS and IELTS Life Skills are on this list.

To find out whether you need to take an approved SELT test, what level you need to achieve, and which test you can use, you should visit www.takeielts.britishcouncil.org/ielts-uk-immigration-visa.

Both the UKVI and Life Skills tests must be taken at an IELTS test location specifically authorised by UKVI, and must be taken under specified conditions. You will receive an IELTS or IELTS Life Skills Test Report Form to show that your test met these requirements.
